Distinguished Teacher Award, Morehead State University, 2005-2006. $2,500.

Teaching Interests and Methods

U.S. and Comparative Constitutional Law: Governmental Powers and Civil Liberties, Criminal Law and Procedure, Environmental Law and Policy, Comparative Federalism, and Human Rights

My classroom teaching is based on Multiple Intelligences (MI) theory. See my "The Bourgeois Gentleman, Multiple Intelligences Theory, and Public Law Courses," Law and Courts, 11(2): 9-13 (2001). To facilitate my MI teaching methods, I have designed, written, and edited case books for my law and policy courses. Canadian Studies Teaching

Kentucky Canadian Studies Consortium, Board Chair, 2001-

The Kentucky Canadian Studies Consortium is a free-standing entity created by five Morehead State University, Eastern Kentucky University, Georgetown College, University of Kentucky, and Western Kentucky University. The KCSC is responsible for planning and implementing the Canadian Embassy-supported Canadian Studies Online Program.

Canadian Studies Online Program, 2001-

The Canadian Studies Online Program (CSOP) is a multi-disciplinary Internet-based program taught by consortium faculty to consortium students. The CSOP includes the introductory course, Perspectives on Canada, and advanced courses which study Canada alone and in comparative and international perspective

These courses are offered as part of undergraduate certificate and minor program of study at Morehead State University, Eastern Kentucky University, and Western Kentucky University, as elective undergraduate courses at the University of Kentucky, and as elective graduate education courses at Morehead State University and Georgetown College.

Canadian Studies Online Program, Coordinator, 2001-

As the CSOP Coordinator, I am responsible for planning and implementing the program. I work with the distance learning staff and faculty on five campuses to schedule and work with 350 students enrolled yearly in 10 to 12 courses.

Kentucky Canadian Studies Association Web Site, 2001-

The Kentucky Canadian Studies Association (KCSA) is the umbrella organization for the Kentucky Canadian Studies Consortium, the Canadian Studies Online Program, and the Kentucky Canadian Studies Roundtable

In 2001, I created the KCSA web site, <http://www.moreheadstate.edu/kcsa>, to link the consortium together and provide information on the Canadian Studies Online Program, the K-12 "Canadian Studies in the Classroom," program, and the annual meetings of the Kentucky Canadian Studies Roundtable.

In 2004, the KCSA site was listed as an affiliate partner on the Association for Canadian Studies in the United States web site: <http://www.acsus.org>. I update the web site regularly; and in 2006, I moved the KCSA web site from the University of Kentucky to Morehead State University.
